Every moment looks ordinary.

Every moment looks ordinary.

Until they connect.

A visit is never a single event. It is a sequence of small, unremarkable signals, each one meaningless on its own.

The signs were already there.

Every store has cameras. Few have visibility.

Thousands of hours of footage are recorded every day.
The moments that matter are often found only after something has already gone wrong.

Behaviour Intelligence, built into every camera.

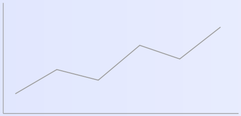
Behaviour Detection

Every movement is analysed continuously instead of waiting for incidents to happen.



Context Awarness

Behaviour continues across cameras without losing context or continuity.

Multi-Camera Tracking

Live Investigation

You already know how it thinks. This is one customer, one afternoon, reconstructed end to end.

Built Around. Every Store.

One continuous system. Seven environments. The behaviour changes, Spacture doesn't.

Luxury

Low footfall, high value. Behaviour is measured in seconds of attention, not transactions.
